Revision Notes
Class 4: English
Chapter 8: Going to buy a Book

Going to buy a Book Revision Notes

- One day, two siblings received money from their grandfather to purchase some books.
- Being a reader and for the love of books, the children were overjoyed to get this money.
- In their excitement, they began to consider whether they should go to the bookshop today or tomorrow, and they decided to go right away.
- Then they began to consider which bookstore the one in the big market or the small shop.
- They thought about whether they should bring someone with them.
- Finally, the children decided to go on their own to a small bookshop. They appreciate the small bookshop that even though small and has many books of all kinds.
- The children felt comfortable in the small bookshop as the store owner liked them.
- He introduced them to different types of books when they were confused about what to buy, a picture book, a storybook, or a thin book.
- The store owner led them to a display of books on animals, machinery, and so on. He told them they could take anything they wanted.
- The children picked books for themselves and sat on the floor, while his brother sat in a chair, and they continued reading the books.
- After a few peaceful hours, they both decided what kinds of books they wanted to acquire. The youngster picked a large book with many stories, whereas his sibling chose a large book with images. The store clerk smiled and handed them the books.
- Finally, they dashed to their grandfather's bed and got into it. The grandfather wrapped his arms around them, and both sons read the book to him cheerfully.

Moral of the Story - Going to buy a Book

- This story depicts the delight and astonishment of a tiny kid who visits a bookstore to select a book. It illustrates the compassionate thoughts of tiny children who love to share even the most insignificant things with others.

- The author shows us in this chapter that even a modest activity like buying a book can be joyful since youngsters live in the now. This narrative also highlights the warm bond between a grandfather and his grandkids.

New Words Meaning with Examples

Word	Meaning	Examples
Alone	Being by oneself on own.	I love to be alone with a book in a library or in my room.
Bookshop	A shop that sells books.	My friends always visit a bookshop anywhere we go.
Machines	An equipment that uses mechanical power that works specific purpose to complete a certain task.	Machines surround us in our everyday lives.
Finally	After a lengthy period of time, usually when there has been trouble or delay.	We could finally enter the Disney channel show.
Climbed	Go up from a lower place.	He carefully climbed into the car after an accident.

Going to buy a Book NCERT Questions Answers

Reading is Fun

1. Why did grandfather give the children money?

Ans: The children's grandfather was happy that his grandkids were good readers and he gave them money to buy some books.

2. Where did they go to buy books?

Ans: They thought a lot about whether they should go to a big market or some other bookshop and they finally went to a small bookstore.

3. Did the girl buy a picture book?

Ans: The girl did not buy a picture book, instead she bought a book with many stories and is a fat book.

Solved Example Practice Questions

Now with the knowledge of Going to buy a Book Summary let us answer a few questions.

1. Do you like books?
Ans: Yes, I love books and I love to read them every day after school. My favourite kind of books is the ones that have both stories and pictures.

2. Why did the children go to the small bookshop?
Ans: The children found the small bookshop to be more interesting as it has different sizes and types of books. And the children felt comfortable and liked by the bookshop owner who also helped them to choose the books they would like.

3. How did the children choose the books?
Ans: The children sat with the books and read for hours before finally deciding that the girl chose the fat book with stories and the boy chose the book with pictures.